

No. 5789 號九十八百七千五第 日三念月五年子丙緒光 HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14th, 1876. 三拜禮 號四十月六英 港香 [Price $2 per Month]

ATTACHMENTS.	10 TO 100	NOTICE	GENERAL WEEKLY SALE.	PUBLIC AUCTION.	LOST & SMALL JAPANESE DOG; and	THE WONDERFUL ARAB DWA
--------------	-----------	--------	----------------------	-----------------	--------------------------------	------------------------

Intimations.

BIN AMHNOON," one of the greatest o living prodigies; will shortly be exhibited at the ORIENTAL HOTEL.
BINAKHOON is an Arab, 25 years of age and 83 inches in height; has no legs or arms;
yet walks about, feeds himself, writes his name
&c.; besides his native tongue, he speaks Eng lish, French, Dutch, Hindostani, Malay, and several other languages.

FOR FOCHOW DIRECT.
THE Steamer
"VASCO DE GAMA."
Captain Rice, will leave for the above Por
TO-MORROW, the 15th instant, at daylight.
For Freight or Passage, apply to

Hongkong, 14th June,

OCEAN STEAMSHIP COMPANY.

FOR SWATOW, AMOY, AND SHANGHAI.
Taking Cargo and Passengers at through rates for HANKOW, NINGPO, and PORTS in JAPAN.

THE Company's Steamship

"TENTISU"

will be despatched TO-MORROW, the 15th instant.

For Freight or Passage, apply to RUTHERFELD & SWIRE, Agents,
002 Hongkong, 14th June, 1878.

FOR SHANGHAI.

THE German Steamship

"CASSANDRA."

Laager, Master, will be despatched—as above
TO-MORROW, the 15th inst., at Noon.

Wm. PUSTAU &
Agents Steamship

890 Hongkong, 13th June, 1876

FOR SINGAPORE, PENANG, AND CALCUTTA.

THE Steamship
"ARGYLL,"
Captain Scott, will leave for the above Ports on SATURDAY, the 17th inst., at 3 p.m.
Despatches will close at 2.30 p.m.
For Freight or Passage, apply to
JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.
891 Hongkong, 13th June, 1876.

LIMITED.

—NOTICE.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS of this Company will be CLOSED on the 20th inst. instant, both days inclusive.

By Order of the Board of Directors,
OLYPHANT & Co.,
General Agents
17d 893 Hongkong, 13th June, 1876.

NOTICE.

THE PASSENGERS from San Francisco by the Steamship "Onoos," before leaving for their home, desire to THAN shown to them during their friends having die

Captain has kindly preserved their remain and brought them on to this Port.
7d 582 Hongkong, 10th June, 1876.

Notices to Consignees.

STRAUSHP. PELHO.
COMPAGNIE D'ES MESSAGERIES MARITIMES.

NOTICE.

CONSIGNEES of Cargo per Steamship
GAYNE, from London, in connection with the above Steamer, are hereby informed that their Goods are being landed and stored

may be obtained from W inst., at 10 A.M.

Captain Gargo will be forwarded on and mission is, to, by the Company for Noon to-MORROW, the 13th inst, requesting it to be landed here.
 Bills of Lading will be countersigned by Uninsured.
 Goods remaining unclaimed after MON-DAY, the 13th inst., at Noon, will be subject to rent and landing charges.
 No Fire Insurance has been effected.
 G. DE CHAMPEAUX,
 Acting Agent.
 582 Hongkong, 12th June, 1876.
 STEAMSHIP ESENEILLA, FROM MANILA.
 CONSIGNEES of Cargo per above Steamship are hereby informed that their Goods have landed and stored in the Godowns of Undergarment at their risk.
 Goods remaining unclaimed after the 16 instant will be subject to rent.
 No Fire Insurance has been effected.
 A. MACG. HEATON
 Agent.
 554 Hongkong, 20th June, 1876.

FRANCISCO.

THE above Steamer having arrived, Consignees of Cargo by her are hereby requested to send their Bills of Lading for Counter signature to the Undersigned, and to take immediate delivery of their goods.
Cargo impeding the discharge will be on landed and stored at Consignees' risk and expense.

JARDINE, MATHESON & CO.
73, 885 Hongkong, 12th June, 1878.

NOTICE.

SIGNEES OF OPTION
F. S. CO.'S Steamship

FROM LIVERPOOL.
SHIPPING Orders must be obtained from the Underwriters not later than the 10th inst. for the purpose of securing their SPEED and their SAFETY.
BUTTERFIELD & SWIRE, Agents,
6d 869 Hongkong, 3d June, 1876.

BRITISH BARKET ECHO, FROM LONDON.
CONSIGNEES of Cargo by the above vessel are requested to send their Bills of Lading to the Underwriters, Counterparty, and to take immediate delivery of the Goods.
Cargo impeding the discharges will be landed and stored at Consignees' risk and expense.
GILMAN & Co., Agents,
4 836 Hongkong, 3d June, 1876.

COMPAGNIE DES MESSAGERIES MARITIMES.
NOTICE TO CONSIGNEES.
CONSIGNEES of the following Cargo requested to send in their Bills of Lading to the undersigned for counterparty, and take immediate delivery; this Cargo has been received in full payment of the freight.
No fire insurance has been effected.

Teamship Hoosly. March

RM	No. 29.....	1 case Merchand
T&L	from Marcella
	Ex Steamship Ara , 2nd May, 1879.
CFP	108 Bags Gum, from Bont
	Ex Steamship Amazons , 14th May, 1879.
PGO	191 Bags Gum and,	4 cases Vermilion
CEP	4 boxes Merchand
OJL	3 bags Gum
No marks	2 bags Raisins.
	Ex Steamship Amazons .
GE	No. 142.....	42 boxes Wine.
AW	3 cases Merchand
HKH	6985/6887.....
	Hongkong, 9th June, 1878.

THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY FOR 1876.

With which is incorporated "THE CHINA DIRECTORY."

THIS WORK, in the FOURTEENTH year of its existence, is NOW READY FOR SALE. It has been compiled and printed at the Daily Press Office, as usual, from the best and most authentic sources, and no pains have been spared to make the work complete in all respects.

In addition to the usual varied and voluminous information, the "CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY FOR 1876" contains—

OF A PLAN OF VICTORIA, HONGKONG, THE FOREIGN SETTLEMENTS OF SHANGHAI.

A Chromo-Lithograph Plate of the NEW CODE OF SIGNALS IN USE AT THE PEAK, also of THE VARIOUS HOUSE-PLACES (Designed expressly for the JAPANESE).

MAPS OF HONGKONG, JAPAN, THE P. & O. COMPANY'S ROUTES, AND THE COAST OF CHINA; ALSO, THE NEW CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE—HONGKONG.

besides other local information and statistics corrected to date of publication, tending to make this Work in every way suitable for Public, Mercantile, and General Offices.

The present Volume also contains a Directory of Singapore.

THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY is now the only publication of its kind for China and Japan.

The Directory is published in two Forms—Complete at $5, or with the Lists of Residents, Port Directors, Maps, &c. at $3.

* The Complete Directories, at $5, are all sold, but a few of the Smaller Edition at $3, are still on hand.

Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily Press Office, or to the following Agents—

MACAO..... Mr. L. de G. de G. de G.
SINGAPORE..... Messrs. Quetch and Campbell.
ALOR..... Messrs. Wilson, Nicholls & Co.
PENANG..... Messrs. Wilson, Nicholls & Co.
KUALA LUMPUR..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SHANGHAI..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
HONGKONG..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
HANKOW..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
HARBIN..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
YOKOHAMA..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
MANILA..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SAIGON..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SYDNEY..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
MELBOURNE..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
ADELPHI..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
LONDON..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
NEW YORK..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
BOSTON..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
PHILADELPHIA..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
BALTIMORE..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
WASHINGTON..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SAN FRANCISCO..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SAN PEDRO DE MACORIS..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SANTO DOMINGO..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SANTIAGO DE LOS CABALLEROS..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SANTIAGO DE LOS CABALLEROS..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.
SANTIAGO DE LOS CABALLEROS..... Messrs. Kelly & Co.

NOTICE.

A. S. WATSON AND CO. FAMILY AND DISPENSING CHEMISTS.

By Appointment to His Excellency the Governor and his Royal Highness the DUKE OF EDINBURGH.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUGGISTS' PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS, DRUGGIST SUPPLIERS, AND AERATED WATER MAKERS.

SHIPS' MEDICINE CHESTS REFITTED. PASSENGER SHIPS SUPPLIED.

Notice.—To avoid delay in the execution of Orders it is particularly requested that all business communications be addressed to the Firm, A. S. WATSON AND CO., 827, HONGKONG DISPENSARY.

DRATH.

On the 10th June, 1876, at St. James' Church, age, Edward, Harry, aged 13 years, son of Wm. H. Hutton, Esq.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, JUNE 14th, 1876.

The leading articles on Chinese affairs which occasionally appear in the columns of the Daily Press are all characterised by the same masterly style. The paper with the "largest circulation" finds much in Chinese institutions, manners, and customs which can be turned to good account in the shape of a guide. It betrays the most superficial knowledge of China and the Chinese, and what little it possesses it turns to poor account. It may tickle the ears of its readers with smart sayings on the pretensions of the "haughty Brother of the Sun" and Moon and Perpetual Protector of Mercator's Projection, and in discouraging a jocular vein on the peculiar idiosyncrasies of the "moon-eyed" and "pig-tailed" Celestial; but it altogether fails to impart any useful information on this ancient and interesting Empire, and its comments are sometimes unjust, and always shallow and condescending. Here is a specimen:—"The Chinese are; as everybody knows, intensely civilised. They were acquainted with umbrellas many centuries before we learned the use of these convenient protectors from the heat of the sun; and, on the score of good manners, they continue to be the politest people that ever tortured their prisoners of war to death, or told falsehoods until it is a wonder their pigtailed deities do not fall off through the perpetual oscillation of their mendacious tongues." Now this flippant style of writing is highly objectionable. Everything is sacrificed by the Telegraph to the one idea of making the article what is commonly termed "spicy." It is, in fact, nothing if not spicy, and any subject which will in any way admit of this particular form of treatment is eagerly seized upon. This sensational style is, however, dropping somewhat out of favour. Perhaps the Telegraph has rather overdone it. The public have become nauseated with gush and spice, and now turn with relief to the common sense and ungarbled opinions to be found in other English journals. People interested in China will not consult the pages of the Telegraph for opinions on it. When that journal finds a peg on which to hang one of its peculiar lucubrations, it fails not to turn into the ridiculous the customs of that country. Its writers may think that China affords a fair subject for their sportive pen, but they forget that even the heathen Son of Han rightly claims justice for himself and his country. The Chinese are bad enough, but there is no reason why they should be painted in darker colours than they deserve. For instance, what right has the Daily Telegraph to stigmatise them as "a race of scoundrelly barbarians"? Some of them certainly do fail to understand the apostrophe saying that cleanliness is next to godliness, and might live under better sanitary conditions, but it is scarcely fair to a nation which, unaided from without, attained to so comparatively high a civilisation centuries ago, to thus brand them with barbarism to the worst kind. Had the Telegraph been writing of the Papuans it could scarcely have said more. It need not go back many centuries to find the condition of Baghdad itself presenting no very favourable contrast to that of China at the same period. Even so late as the reign of Queen Anne the picture presented of Great Britain by historical writers is anything but flattering to the national vanity. Macaulay, writing about the state of England in 1685, observes that it was a time "when the finest houses in Bath, then a place of fashion, resembled the lowest rag shops and pot-houses of Ratisbonne; when between the North and South of London there was no communication save a single line of irregular arches, which impeded the navigation of the river, garnished after a fashion worthy of the matted barbarians of Dahomey, with scores of mouldering beads, when farmers and shopkeepers, brookthatched on leaves the very sight of which would arouse a riot in a workhouse; when to have a clean shirt once a week was a privilege reserved for the higher class of gentry; when men died faster in the poorest air of the country than they now do in the most pestilential lanes of our towns, and when they died faster in the lanes of towns than they now do on the coast of Guinea." In Scotland even less progress had been made, and at that period the manners and habits of the people were destitute of refinement. In Ireland a century further back the poorer people were little better than savages in their habits, and inhabited squalid mud hovels beside which the poorest tenements in China would compare favourably. But at that period China was in much the same condition as she is now. The system of internal communication by canals and paved foot-ways was quite equal to what it is at the present time. The people were, on the whole, fairly prosperous and contented. The richer classes enjoyed nearly the same luxuries they possess now, and in many respects were better off in that respect than the grandees of the United Kingdom. The difference between the two countries is very great now, it will be admitted, but scarcely so wide as the Telegraph imagines. China has stood still while the nations of Europe have advanced. But this is her misfortune, not hers, instead of taunting her with her backwardness, urge upon her the necessity of progress. There are not wanting signs of an impending change. Meanwhile it would be well for critics of the Telegraph to examine a little more closely into the civilisation and literature of those whom they term "uncleanly barbarians." It is possible that such a study might induce them to moderate their contempt for the Chinese, and to form another and far more flattering opinion of them. A people possessing such a history and such a civilisation, imperfect as the latter confessedly is, ought not to be written down with the cool insolence displayed by the "young lions" of the journal with the "largest circulation."

It is stated (says the Straits Times) that it is the intention of the Government, before the existing subsidies paid to Great Ocean Steam Packet Company, on the 12th and 13th, and on the 14th, are renewed, to come to some definite arrangement for each vessel to carry one or more powerful armoured-piercing guns, and to be fitted with the officers and crews to be trained to their use.

On Monday afternoon the watermen were thrown into a state of some excitement by a whiffwind which passed over the ground occupied by them in their cleansing operations. Articles of Indian and gentian's wearing apparel were promiscuously caught together and carried to a considerable height, some of them, inflated by the wind, presenting a ludicrous appearance. The watermen may possibly be accounted for, for sandy missing garments by this cause.

On Monday night about ten o'clock an alarm of fire was given. People hurrying the bell and looking out of the fire, failed, however, to see any indication of its whereabouts, and contented themselves with watching the fire, which in a house near Central Market a bolt of lightning was broken and the light was lent by a candle falling into it. The occupants of the house were naturally alarmed and sent for assistance, but before the police arrived the fire had been extinguished. The damage done was trifling.

Captain and Brevet Major E. B. Snow, Royal Marine Light Infantry, who served for some time in Japan, but who has since been promoted to the rank of Major, having attained the age for compulsory retirement, 48 years. Major Snow is at present on board the Scipio, in command of the detachment of marines at the Prince of Wales, at whose special request Major Snow was appointed. The manner in which he has discharged his duties has received the highest praise from his Royal Highness, and we understand that a special mark of their high appreciation will be conferred on Major Snow by the Admiralty.—London and China Express.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

On Monday evening a very successful entertainment was given at the Temperance Hall for the benefit of the Infirmary. The hall was crowded, and great interest was manifested in the attendance in the proceedings. The Rev. W. H. Baynes, who presided, made a most efficient chairman, and also presided over the evening's amusements, which were of a very high order. The songs, glee, and read were all much appreciated and some were re-demanded. One reading was, however, though sufficiently interesting, but the manner of delivery was the subject of the audience. The recitation "Miss Evans and the Eagle" was given with much manner and ability and elicited very commendative applause. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success.

SUPREME COURT.

June 14th.

SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SNOWDEN.

THE "ADAM" CASE.

THE P. & O. S. S. "ADAM," Capt. Po Yung, 1885. This case was adjourned until Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock.

A DISTRESS TAILOR'S BILL.

A-2027. Mrs. JACKSON, 33-35. This was a claim brought by a tailor for distressing of two dresses, and buttons, etc., applied. The defendant said plaintiff had spoiled the dresses, and filed a counter claim for $5 the value of the material. Mrs. Jackson said she had spoiled the skirts were two tight, so that she could not walk nor sit at all. The defendant said if the dresses were too tight it was because they were made so. Mrs. Jackson said she had spoiled the material was brought by a tailor for distressing of two dresses, and buttons, etc., applied. The defendant said plaintiff had spoiled the dresses, and filed a counter claim for $5 the value of the material. Mrs. Jackson said she had spoiled the skirts were two tight, so that she could not walk nor sit at all. The defendant said if the dresses were too tight it was because they were made so.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must pay the $5, but the dresses would be left to him, and he could have them next Tuesday.

CLAIM FOR ROBBERY.

HUGHES V. STUART, 425. This was a claim brought by Mr. Hughes, the official assignee in the estate of the late Mr. Stuart, for the recovery of $5, the cost of the material. He must

